1) The Swordsman and Elementalist 2) The Battle Master 3) The Queen of Blades GAMEPLAY ELDEN RING game: 1) The Swordsman and Elementalist Character Creation Create your own character. There are 3 main jobs that you can select: Swordsman, Elementalist and Queen of Blades. You can choose a character height, weight and elements (elemental wise), and then choose a name for your character. You can change your character appearance later. With your appearance, you can choose the frame (armor), equipment (weapons, armor), and eyes, nose and mouth parts (spell casting elements). Play Area You can play solo or in a group of up to six players. The area where the map is created is called the Play Area. This area is accessible for all players, and you can move freely here. You can move around this area freely and switch from one map to another in any order. A wide variety of maps is available, each having different dangers, quests, monsters, villages and other elements that you can experience. In some maps, you may require to fight in a variety of manners, so make sure to get used to it. You may need to fight against monsters, defeat bosses, or collect items for quests, such as gold to be used for upgrading equipment. Quests You can receive quests from your village chief or enter a competition to win the prize of making a request to the village chief. The reason for this is to give you a sense of real life, so you can immerse yourself in the world of Elden Ring. Combat When you are caught in the midst of a battle, the enemy HP of your character will drop at a certain rate. If this occurs, you must quickly choose an action, otherwise you will lose the battle. There are two different actions available in combat, as well as different methods to support your character's actions. On the left of the screen there is an action menu that lets you select your character's abilities. You can use the attacks or defenses that you choose during character creation to fight. * The enemy's HP will drop at a certain rate during the battle. You can defeat them in various ways, but not all of them will be available to you. If you are defeated, you will lose the battle. Attack-Magic Attack
