Choose your role and play a combination of all the heroes you like for a diverse experience! You will play as the Adventurer, the Support, the Mystic and the Outlaw. The Crew will be able to vote on your decisions. The final destination is far away. You will have to fight, loot, dodge, build and drive to survive in the wild! Don't let the monsters touch you. Use your Skill Points to craft better gear. The best weapons will help you kill faster and climb the leaderboards! The Invasion is coming! You and your Crew will meet tons of enemies coming from the past, present and future. Explore a random generated map and loot bosses for powerful weapons, Shields and auras to power up your characters and drive better. About Us: RioPow Games was established in 2014 and has been developing video games ever since. Our journey started with the development of single player games, and our focus is to provide quality experiences. Thanks to a great crew of 3, we have released several video games on multiple platforms and are proud to be a finalist on the best indie game of Brazil 2020. RioPow is situated in the best place to work together and learn something new. Join us to contribute to the adventure of our studio and enjoy the fruits of your contribution! RioPow Games and its entire studio are based in the city of São Carlos, where we are also happy to host events and activities where everyone can enjoy. No Captain Allowed!

In a world that runs on video games, you have to find a new way of life without falling in the wrong hands. (If you want to play the game, you can download it for free on steam, it's the same game.) Panda Inc. is a very funky and fantastic game that, in my opinion, is one of the best roguelikes (very similar to the Superbrothers' "Super Meat Boy") the games are: genre is called "Platform" -See inside for more info. I made this game because I love the Superbrothers games and I thought we should try to emulate the best of them in a new game, with our own playstyle and characters. I really hope you enjoy it! If you want more info about the characters, the game or for other things, let me know! Also, I have something I want to show you: About the game: The game is all on the left side of the screen. You can move around by making your character walk into the direction you're pointing. Right clicking is for changing the direction of your character and can be used to jump when you do this. The direction your character is facing, depends on the sprite you chose, and the top of the sprite. You can only hold two items at the same time, but you can use items while running, by holding them. (That's why you can't hold one weapon when your running, but when you stop you can.) There are many different enemies in the game, and every enemy has their own health and ability. Enemies will die if they attack your character or if you give them enough damage. There are three different types of items: -Weapon: use it to attack enemies in front of you. -Shield: block damage. -Aura: increase your ability to use your equipment by 20% If your character is hit by an enemy, he will get injured. When you are injured, you will lose 20% of your health, and will automatically get knocked down to the ground. When you get knocked down, you will lose all your items. To get back to the ground, you need to press R with your mouse, and then W when you get up. You can have up to eight characters in a party. They can be of any gender. In this puzzle, you are presented with information about a city that has been abandoned

What's new:

How to defeat Hunger Is there a glitch in the Howler? Are Canadians working Holiday On or Off? We like to know where you are and how you are doing at the moment so you can always tell us the truth! We will post this page every Friday lunchtime with the current hour news on both of our Facebook page: College Street Public Market and on the HEART Facebook group. As well, we'll retweet it on Twitter @brass_up_market. Please feel free to share this page and get the word out! Get ready for Fridays with Tamara at 11 a.m. Tam and I will try to have food for sale. Most often, people will just want to talk about food but having some snackies will help to keep everyone occupied and eating. P.S. In a subsequent post, we'll answer some of our most asked questions as a result of our first year! We never eat on a Friday - we don't eat for lunch. Monday is the only time we try to maintain some stability and not eat so much food at home. (Tam, adding in response to the comment below that Friday is a good time to eat) We get our main calories through hotel breakfasts and dinners. We've spent a ton of money on hotel food this year trying to keep up with people's requests for the cheapest and/or healthiest. However, it turns out you can go from $20 per day to $100 per day and we have to maintain a lower daily budget. (Tam) We are packing more for day trip trips because we've noticed people can't eat the way they need to eat if they don't have some snacks with them and the best place to find them is on day trip trips. (Tam) Do you have a favourite hotel? One that you always book in between cities? (Tam) The hotel changes season to season. Right now we love the Hotel Key West but if you have the chance to stay at the Tides you have excellent views and an always fun event staff. (Amber) What is your favourite food? (Tam) In terms of breakfasts, the only one that we eat for lunch is the Panera Bread in Downtown. Toastie seems to be our favourite lunch food, with the extra traditional American breakfast sandwich mainstays
