Predicting the success and outcome of botulinum toxin-A for facial hyperfunction. Botulinum toxin type A (BTX-A) is frequently used to treat a variety of facial muscles for the treatment of a range of conditions including muscle spasms, dynamic wrinkles, cosmetic lines, and excessive muscle activity or hyperfunction. In this article we will review the predictive factors that have been associated with success and outcome of BTX-A for the treatment of facial hyperfunction. BTX-A is an emerging form of neuromodulation used to treat a diverse range of disorders affecting the face. Results have been disappointing and treatments are not universally effective. Numerous reports have evaluated the predictive factors of response to BTX-A therapy with variable success. Given that there are limited data on how to select the most likely patients who will benefit from BTX-A therapy, this review may be of interest to clinicians.³ Reasons to Wear a Baseball Cap There is little that I love more than baseball games, and baseball caps are one of my favorite little sports accessories. I think they are especially awesome when you are out and about since they can be worn with anything from a pair of shorts to a dress shirt, yet still retain their "baseball cap" look. Here are three top reasons to buy baseball caps: 1. The Concealment of Crazy Hair Sometimes crazy hair happens when you have long hair. Maybe it is a pixie cut or long bangs that are just too short to hide behind your ears. Some people don't like to go hatless even though it is summer and they are out in the sun. It happens to me too! I need to hide my crazy hair so I don't scare 6d1f23a050
